

PRESS RELEASE

FoodInSpace Awards: here are the winners of the 2024 edition.

Milan, Nov. 18, 2024 - FoodInSpace, the web magazine dedicated exclusively to global Food&Beverage spaces, announces the winners of the first edition of the FoodInSpace Awards.

The FoodInSpace Awards 2024 present the 29 winners in the 29 categories under the international awards. The international expert jury of renowned architects, designers, interior designers and food & beverage and design experts, consisting of 16 judges from 10 countries, and the popular vote cast by the public on the foodinspace.net platform (where about 300.000 votes from the finalist projects), have decreed the winning projects in the two macro categories in the 2024 edition of the international competition, conceived and promoted by Marco Beolchi, with the collaboration of the agencies JET'S, Wallabi and SoWhat (i.e. JET'S Group).

“Concept Projects” and “Space Projects”, expressing the multiple sensibilities on food&beverage of studios, architects and designers from all over the world, have been divided into the twenty-nine subcategories provided in this first edition of the award.

As of today, November 18, you can then discover the fabulous winners of all categories by visiting the appropriate section of the portal <https://www.foodinspace.net/winners-2024/>
